He told of his personal experiences and the pictures were all the more interesting because the lecturer had taken them himself.

INCREASING ON TRIPLE CORNER A passenger on a street car when passing the corner of Kirkness and Alberta Avenue was today to remark that two years ago he had refused to pay the triple corner there for any reason.

BIG BUILDING BUSINESS
Two years ago the building up of the district industry in Alberta, after years of boom. This year the building boom kept up better than any other part of the city. In fact a wholesale businessman remarked to a north end businessman that the business of one year in the north part of the city of Edmonton for one month for a year was as good as for 12 years in a certain other city in Alberta for the period. The wholesaler was doing big business in both cities.

LET LIGHT SHINE
Street lamps are scarce and far between on the street corners of the district industry to Alberta Avenue.
The dark nights are coming. Lamps are more needed even than police for light may prevent the need of police.

ST. PAUL'S SOCIAL
The congregation of St. Paul's first of a series of such fortnightly entertainments which the congregation of St. Paul's purpose to hold during the winter months.

MISSIONARIES TO SYDNEY
On November 12th for the first time of the new send of the new missionaries to Sydney, about a score or more of the clergy and lay delegates of the Edmonton district will be on the northern part of the new diocese at the Mission House on 22nd street.

WIND SHIELD CAUSED EXPLOSION OF AIRSHIP

(By Sidney Hillebrand.) Real estate values, like the mercury in the thermometer, rise with expansion. The making of the "airship" is the fundamental principle of the present day life. The world is filled in every direction for opportunity and the country that offers the most pro-pitable investment of capital. The "airship" of opportunity in this district may reasonably be summed up in "natural resources," "natural power for working up the raw material into the finished product," and the "nearness" of the "airship" of opportunity.
The available position of the interior of British Columbia and especially the Fort Fraser Valley lands, at present these qualifications, is sufficient reason for study, and any expansion taken must indicate not necessarily pessimism but a complete exhaustion of knowledge and capability of estimating the power of development of a country.

Index of Immigrants.
The greater advantages which offer a comparatively new and undeveloped country, Canada possesses the advantages of forest and fur resources and manufacturing, all the various industries of our complex civilized, present inducements and opportunities which older countries no longer offer. Immigrants investment in real estate must bring to the investor an "uncovered investment" of large proportions. Farms not only support our own population, but are under regulation to supply the needs of the people across the Atlantic and the Pacific as well as the forest and agricultural stands the farmer. In no other calling is the opportunity for achievement so great. His is the most independent vocation in life. That the world always has a demand for all he produces has never been questioned.

The demand for his products is increasing more rapidly than the supply.
Apart from the fact that the world is a demand for all he produces, one thousand people are entering the world by ship, by rail, by home, citizenship and their share of prosperity. It involves strenuous work to provide for nearly 100,000 new Canadians who come to us by land and sea every year.

Demands for Homes.
Immigration enlarges the value and purchasing power of the home investor. We cannot introduce new people to Canada without introducing their demands for homes, culture, food, necessities generally, and education and a few. The effect on general conditions is obvious. The stress of immigration increases the demand for the necessities of life. The demand for the necessities of life is the shape of actual cash and outlay.
A moderate estimate of the amount brought into Canada in this way by immigrants during the past year is $10,000,000.

Little wonder then that the callous and unfeeling men who are interested in brain and capital to open up new land, and to make it available land.

Prison as its commercial center and disseminating point. Already thousands of farmers are reeking that way. The Government report, made by the District Commissioner of Lands, which has been accepted by the Government, is aggregation and enlarged by motives of personal interest, gives the approximate average of land tributary to Fort Fraser as:

Northwest corner... 274,000 Lower Northern River... 11,000 Stuart River... 125,000 South end of Lake... 182,000 North end of Lake... 57,000 Total... 549,000

Within the limits of this district there may be found a most every kind of soil and conditions that any farmer or matter where he holds from it what his predictions may be, could not be made. No land in all British Columbia is more fertile, or will yield more readily under cultivation, than the Fort Fraser district. A large percentage of the other districts will be found more suited to stock raising and dairying than to general farming, the average produced from crops of all kinds, while most of the other benches and mountain ranges are covered with sterile and unproductive soil.

There are some for thousands of years have been and will be to the benefit of the country as a whole. The land of the Fort Fraser district is rich in every way.

In years to come when the immigrants and the land will be settled, the land will be a most valuable asset to the country as a whole.

NEW ZEALAND ABANDONS POLICY OF CONTRIBUTION FOR THAT OF NEW ZEALAND BUILT AND NEW ZEALAND MANNED NAVY

Premier Massey Announces a New Naval Scheme For Overseas Dominion—Change Is Heartily Approved By the Imperialistic Newspapers of Great Britain—New Policy Identical With That Advocated By Liberals of Canada.

(Special Cable from the Bulletin's Resident Correspondent.)
London, Oct. 29.—New Zealand's decision to abandon her policy of naval subsidies for a fleet of her own has been very favorably received by most prominent Imperial newspapers here.

"We have long maintained that the creation of local navies, while it cannot completely provide for naval security, must be an essential part of any adequate landing scheme of common naval defence."

The Morning Post, which usually represents the extreme naval school, says: "New Zealand launches herself upon the blue waters of the Pacific like a true chip of the old block, with pluck and devotion. It is, we are more and more convinced, the right policy of our Antipodean Dominions. It will help to teach them the realities of life and will go to give them strength and self-reliance from a naval point of view. It will, at first, mean certain loss of strength in unity, but in the end may add more to our Imperial strength than anything which could be hoped from a cash subsidy policy."

The Daily Telegraph, while laudably praising the spirit shown by New Zealanders in their committing themselves to a navy of their own, whose heavy cost will grow like some wizard's gourd, "shaking those young people, with their urgent problems unsolved, in bonds of naval rivalry. It is one of the most regrettable incidents in the story of the Empire since it first arose to consciousness of itself."

London, Oct. 29.—The Times commending, especially on the New Zealand naval bill says: "The main purpose of the proposals is to provide more fully for the training in New Zealand of officers and men for the navy."
